

Social and Personal

Sunshine.

I do not know what the skies there were,
Nor if the wind was high or low;
I think I heard the branches stir
A little when we turned to go;
I think I saw the grasses sway
As yet it seemed to kiss your feet—
And yet it seemed like yesterday,
That day together, sweet!

I think it must have been in May;
I think the sunlight must have shone
I know a scent of springtime lay
Across the fields; we were alone,
We went together, you and I;
How could I look beyond your eyes?
It you were only standing by
I did not miss the skies!

I could not tell if the evening glow,
Or noontide haze lay white and still
Beyond the shadows of the road;
I only watched your face, until
I knew it was the gladiolus day,
The sweetest day that summer knew
Time when we two stole away
And I saw only you!

Miss Knowles at Woman's Club.

Miss Margery Knowles scored a splendid success in her song recital at the Woman's Club last afternoon.

Mr. Jacob Reinhardt was Miss Knowles's accompanist, and her numbers seemed specially adapted to show the power, richness and tenderness of her beautiful contralto voice. While all her songs were charming, the choice, if choice could be made, would have been "The Song of the Lark," by Heine, and "O, for a Breath of the Moorlands," by Heine—three numbers that were repeated by the special request of a large and enthusiastic audience, which embraced some of the finest musicians in the city.

Miss Knowles was beautifully gowned in a white crepe de chine trimmed with lace, and a white chiffon hat with drooping white plumes. After the programme was rendered a reception was held, and the young singer was the center of an enthusiastic group, which gathered around the piano beside which she stood.

Guests of the afternoon were: Mrs. Knox Wilson, Mrs. W. S. Gordon, Miss E. Wirt Williams, Miss Annie L. Reinhardt, Miss Juliet Lee, Mr. John H. Powell, Mr. A. H. Gupton, Mrs. B. H. Clowes, Mrs. E. R. Chesterman, Mrs. William B. Pizani, Miss Mabel McBain, and Miss Sallie Deane.

Mrs. William B. Newton and Mrs. Shields, of Norfolk, Va., came in with Mrs. W. G. Starnard; Mrs. Henry McDowell, Jr., of New York, with Mrs. Hugh Taylor; Miss Parthenia George, of Alabama, with Mrs. Page Massey; Mrs. Ford, Miss Robb, of Paduch, Ky., with Mrs. William Chambers, and Mrs. E. Courtney Jenkins, with Mrs. Isaac Davenport. Mrs. J. Taylor Ellison poured coffee, and Mrs. J. H. Hickey tea.

Other recent guests of the club are: Mrs. Fannie M. Hughes, of Lynchburg; Mrs. Julia Manning Coles, of New York city; Miss Nettle Robinson, of Baltimore; Mrs. John H. Holcomb, of Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. E. C. Jenkins, of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Moreland, of Charleston, S. C.

Burnett-Bargamin.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Bargamin announced the engagement of their daughter, Therese, to Mr. Charles Ryland Burnett.

The wedding will be celebrated October 25th, at 6 o'clock P. M., in Grace Episcopal Church, this city.

Taylor-Ellison.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Theodore Ellison have sent out invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Bettie Blair, to Mr. Jesse Reade Taylor, the celebration to take place Wednesday evening, October 27th, at 6 o'clock, in the home of the bride's parents, No. 34 Park Avenue, this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will be at home at the New Richmond Hotel, No. 10 West Twenty-first Street, New York city. The fact that Miss Ellison was always been a great social favorite in Richmond, and other cities, where she has visited, and that Mr. Taylor has also a large Richmond and Virginia acquaintance, will cause the announcement of their approaching nuptials to carry with it widespread interest.

Howard-Stickney.

Cards of announcement have been received of the marriage of Miss Gertrude Stickney, of Wilson, N. C., and Mr. Thomas M. Howard, of Norfolk.

The bride is a daughter of the late Rev. F. B. Stickney, former rector of Monumental Episcopal Church.

Serrell-Prince.

Judge Joseph B. Prince has announced the engagement of his sister, Miss Jessie Prince, to the Hon. John N. Serrell, Jr., of Norfolk.

Miss Prince is a charming young lady and possesses rare musical talent.

Mr. Serrell is a member of the law firm of Cabell and Serrell, and was a late member of the House of Delegates from Southampton county.

At Virginia Hot Springs.

The recent cold wave has done wonders for the Hot Springs, where every day the sun is shining brightly.

Mr. and Mrs. Linder Dunn, who are here with their daughters, gave a tea last week in honor of their guests, Senor Llorent and his sister, Senorita Llorent, of Spain, whom they met while traveling abroad last winter.

The Misses Dunn assisted their mother in receiving her guests, including Mrs. Beth Barton French, Mr. and Mrs. Britton and many others.

Mrs. Beth Barton French gave a dinner and dance in honor of the Misses Dunn. The table decorations were in luscious fruits.

A delightful dinner party was also given by Mr. Joseph C. Anderson, of Washington, by Mr. and Mrs. Melville B. Ingalls.

There are several private four-in-hands here, with brakes, and the young people are making the roads very lively. Among those driving the jolly parties are Mr. George Cole Scott, of Richmond; Mr.

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Professor Charles Elliot Norton.

Like to a Flower.

By HEINE.

The first line of this poem, as written by Heine, is, Du bist wie eine Blume. Other selections from Heine, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

Like to a flower, lovely
And pure and fair thou art;
I gaze on thee, and sadness
Then steals into my heart.

I long to lay in blessing
My hands on thy head, and pray
That God keep thee so lovely,
So fair and pure alway.

WEAKENED AT LAST MOMENT

Servant Contemplating Poisoning, Snatches Fatal Dish From Judge's Table.

LEXINGTON, KY., September 26.—Louis Mitchell, a negro, arrested Saturday night for attempting to poison the wife and children of Judge James H. Mulligan, ex-consul to Samoa, author and jurist, declares that a member of the Judge's family had been left alone in some salmon salad and put it on the table. He was "sweated" twice yesterday by Judge Mulligan and Chief of Detectives Marshall, but would not change his story.

Mitchell, when he saw the family about to partake of the poisoned dish, weakened, and, rushing into the room, snatched it off the table. He was caught before he could destroy it and asked to explain his actions. He said the salmon contained poison. Examination showed quantities of arsenic.

Mitchell has been in the family for fifteen years, and was trusted with the keys to the pantry. Since Judge Mulligan has a second family his children by his first wife have been left alone. The general belief is that the negro is crazy. The nomination for Lieutenant-Governor was offered to Judge Mulligan when William Goebel was nominated for Governor, and had he accepted he would have become Governor of Kentucky at Mr. Goebel's death.
